Pay Grade: UI
Pay Scale: $90,410.17-$135,615.26 Annually
Exempt: Yes

OVERVIEW

The Risk Manager will lead the Sheriff's Office claims management activities (e.g., workers' compensation, personal claims, short- and long-term disability, fitness for duty, automobile) and use trackable data to advance the risk management team's overall strategy and daily operations. This role is primarily responsible for preserving financial assets to mitigate the best claims outcomes, performing incident investigation and risk control activities related to insurance coverages, and assisting in the coordination of transitional modified duties, legal proceedings, and resolution strategies. In addition, the Risk Manager will collaborate with other divisions to ensure proper adjudication of agency policies and various laws that are applied to employees with on-the-job injuries; conduct field personnel training on the worker's compensation management processes; and assist with championing safety communication for sworn and civilian personnel.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

Duties may vary based on assignment.

- Manage and oversee all claim-related activities including managing vendors (e.g., legal, medical case management, surveillance) and third-party providers (e.g., brokers, insurers, and third-party administrators (TPAs)), liaising with the HCSO Legal Office on all claim-related matters, and resolving claim disputes with carriers according to industry standards, best practices, and agency policy.
- Manage internal agency relationships related to all insurance programs.
- Collaborate and coordinate with TPAs and outside counsels to perform internal litigation management; identify any actual or potential issues resulting from TPAs or outside counsels that could impact claim outcomes.
- Review and approve all action plans recommended by the claim's administrator or TPA on claims and make recommendations to expedite positive claim outcomes as needed throughout the life of the claim.
- Interact with legal counsel, insurance carriers, TPAs, and patients/families to affect timely settlements of claims and approve all case reserves and claim settlements based on established guidelines.
- Conduct and participate in claims committee conferences as needed on complex claims.
- Obtain all pertinent claim information and documents from the claims adjuster; apprise managers with initial assessment before the claim is reported to initiate the claims adjudication process immediately.
- Support accounting and budgeting activities associated with insurance claims costs and other related litigation costs including reviewing, auditing, and processing for payment any related claims or litigation invoices and ensuring timely payment of claim invoices and/or any refunds of settlements.
- Oversee medical leave and return to work compliance including reviewing and investigating all first reports of employee injury, contacting injured employees to determine their current medical status and needs within 24 hours, providing guidance regarding follow up care, and communicating the workers' compensation process and expectations.
- Monitor employee compliance with medical treatment and transitional duty assignments on an ongoing basis as warranted until closure (e.g., fitness for duty form); provide regular internal status updates on injured employees to applicable agency personnel.

- Coordinate fitness for duty evaluations.
- Act as the agency Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Compliance Officer.
- Create templates and support the team to ensure the risk management team can operate smoothly through a variety of dynamic legal and operational issues; provide mentorship to team members.
- Develop reporting mechanisms to improve communications and transparency with agency stakeholders and present reports and analyses to the management chain; coordinate the safety/occurrence reporting process.
- Prepare ad hoc presentations to internal divisions on insurance programs and exposures.
- Document industry benchmarking and metrics; prepare loss analyses identifying exposures, recommending solutions, and implementing approved programs.
- Collaborate and coordinate with applicable parties to ensure accuracy of claims data, analytics, claims costs, and various value-added reports.
- Participate in championing safety communications for sworn and civilian staff (newsletters, posters, social media, etc.).
- Train department heads and field level employees on risk management and claims related best practices with respect to on-the-job injuries and return to work.
- Provide in-service training to Occupational Health and Wellness Center (OHWC) employees and medical staff to enhance safety awareness and their roles in preserving OHWC assets and reducing liability exposure.
- Lead agency risk control services including pre-accident and post-accident investigation when necessary.
- Complete periodic risk assessment exercises (e.g., recurring and ad hoc audits, incident remediation, escalations) to periodically review programs and improve internal processes to mitigate risk.
- Assist in providing agency guidance on adherence to civil rights laws and respond to requests for reasonable accommodations.
- Perform other related duties as required.

KNOWLEDGE & ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of automobile, personal claims, short-term and long-term disability, FMLA, and/or workers' compensation claims processing rules and regulations.
