OVERVIEW

Oversee the operations, medical and health services, and management of the Sheriff's Office Occupational Health and Wellness Center (OHWC). Perform duties supporting and directing the highest quality employee health and urgent care/ambulatory care services available to all patients. Ensure the Sheriff's Office and OHWC mission, vision, and values are met. This role is still directly involved in patient care and/or evaluation (e.g., all current employees, eligible dependents and retirees with Sheriff's Office insurance, conditional offer applicants). All duties and responsibilities are to be performed in compliance with state and federal laws and regulations governing the legal scope of medical practice.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

Duties may vary based on assignment.

- Oversee complex functions with subordinate physicians, nurses, other health care professionals, managers, and staff to provide person-directed care that meets relevant clinical standards.
- Develop and implement organizational policies and procedures for the OHWC.
- Direct major programs (e.g., pre-employment medical evaluation, fitness for duty, employee health, workers' compensation, occupational exposures) to achieve broad organizational goals and objectives while maintaining standards of care.
- Manage and direct the activities of multiple professional level subordinates in achieving established organizational goals and objectives; coordinate functions; assign, monitor, and review work; evaluate performance and initiate corrective action as needed, including termination.
- Help identify, interpret, and comply with relevant federal, state, and local laws and regulations; inform clinic physicians, health care professionals, and staff about applicable updates to include agency policies and standard operating procedures (SOPs) and rules and regulations.
- Develop and maintain the budget including the justification of the budget and the subsequent monitoring of funds and expenditures to help the clinic allocate sufficient resources for essential medical functions and patient care activities.
- Help identify, evaluate, and address situations that increase the risk of employee injury and illness; advise command and executive personnel on preventing and managing employee injuries.
- Maintain communication between governing boards, medical staff, and agency leadership by attending meetings and coordinating interdepartmental functioning.
- Inspect facilities and recommend building or equipment modifications to ensure emergency readiness and compliance to access, safety, and sanitation regulations.
- Advise command and executive personnel in areas where medical expertise is helpful.
- Advise the facility on policies related to the health and safety of staff, visitors, and volunteers.
- Sustain professional development through self-directed and continuing education.
- Facilitate education and training of staff in areas that are relevant to providing high quality patient care and identifying and accessing relevant educational resources.

- Provide and manage direct patient care, including physical examinations, evaluations, assessments, diagnoses, and treatment; perform therapeutic procedures such as incision and drainage (I&D), splinting, suturing, managing infection, and wound care documenting/charting patient information in line with current policies and procedures.
- Develop and implement patient management plans, records progress notes, and assist in provision of continuity of care; communicate with patients regarding testing results, follow-up care, and additional information; prescribe pharmaceuticals, other medications, and treatment regimens as appropriate to assessed medical conditions; refer patients to specialists and to relevant patient care components as appropriate.
- Follow established policies, procedures, objectives, and recommended referral practices; participate in facility in-services, required staff meetings, and other clinic operations procedures.
- Order diagnostic tests, such as x-ray, electrocardiogram, and laboratory tests, and interpret test results for deviation from normal; orient and train new practitioners when necessary; direct and coordinate the patient care activities of nursing and support staff as required.
- Supervise mid-level practitioners when appropriate and abide by all associated rules and regulations.
- Perform other duties as required.

KNOWLEDGE & ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of principles and processes for providing both customer and personal services including customer needs assessment, meeting quality standards for services, and evaluation of customer satisfaction.
- Working knowledge of computerized information systems used in business applications and clinical management systems (EMR).
- Knowledge of management methods, techniques, and practices.
- Knowledge of relevant drugs and their chemical composition, structure, and properties of substances and of the chemical processes and transformations that they undergo.
